

“Maybe a fella ain’t got a soul of his own, but only a piece of a big one. And then—then it don’t matter. Then I’ll be around in the dark. I’ll be everywhere—wherever you look. Wherever there’s a fight so hungry people can eat, I’ll be there. Wherever there’s a cop beatin’ up a guy, I’ll be there. I’ll be in the way guys yell when they’re mad, and I’ll be in the way kids laugh when they’re hungry and they know supper’s ready. And when our folks eat the stuff they raise and live in the houses they build – why, I’ll be there. See?”
